

FACILITATOR: MARIANNE VINCENT

Professional Background

Marianne is the Director of Training Quality at People Potential. She is the master trainer and developer of Presentations Alive!™. People Potential's flagship presentation skills programme. More than 15,000 corporate participants across the Asia-Pacific region have gone through the programme in the past 24 years. She is a co-author of People Potential's upcoming book, Articulate: New Methods for Managers to get Buy-In.

Marianne works primarily with senior managers and talent for their presentations:

1. Executive Presence Coaching
2. Masterclass: Advanced Delivery Skills
3. Presentations Alive!™ (customised for senior managers)
4. Just-in-Time coaching (for business pitches to senior management)

She also trains and/or co-developed the following programmes:

1. The Case Maker™ suite of programmes
2. Think on Your Feet®
3. Presentations Alive!™ Licensing (for in-house trainers)

Academic Background

A Master Practitioner of NLP (Neuro-Linguistic Programming); Marianne also holds advanced NLP certifications in Language Patterns (Terrence McClendon, Australia), and Modelling (Robert Dilts, David Gordon, USA). Her uniqueness stems from the fact that besides being a gifted trainer, she also brings extensive knowledge about upfront performance and practice methods from her previous training abroad as a concert pianist.

Community Involvement

Marianne works with NGOs to strengthen their presentation skills. She has run programmes for many NGOs including a leading environmental organisation, a civil society organisation committed to promoting the rights of women, and a charity that helps people worldwide who are tempted to suicide or despair. She regularly conducts trainings in People Potential's NGO series.
